"Separate but Equal" Theory Goes To Court

WASHINGTON (ANP)—The U. S. Supreme court again is set to hear arguments on the constitutionality of racial segregation in the nation's public schools.

Beginning Monday, Dec. 7, the high tribunal will hear arguments in five school cases challenging jim crow schools.

All five cases originally were heard in December of 1952.

After deliberating for several months, the court on June 8 postponed a decision until several questions centering on the 14th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution were answered.

The NAACP legal staff, representing parents of school pupils in the cases, recently filed a brief stating that the high court has the power to outlaw segregation in schools.

Taking a similar position was Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, who last week filed a brief, presenting what many considered the Eisenhower administration's position in the issue.

In a 188-page brief filed with the high tribunal, Friday, Atty. Gen. Brownell contended that the Supreme Court not only has the power to rule in the matter, but has the responsibility of enforcing "all rights arising under the 14th Amendment without awaiting exercise of independent enforcement power granted congress."

THE GOVERNMENT BRIEF filed

Woman Dies At 124

BEAUFORT, S. C. (ANP)—Funeral services for Mrs. Emma Alston, reported to be 124 years old, were held last week in the Mt. Carmel Baptist Church in Dale.

The former slave died earlier in the week at the home of her grandniece in Dale.

Mrs. Alston, who outlived 12 of 13 children, had been in relatively good health, according to Dr. Burne Jones.

Her only child to survive here is her son, David, of Dale.

Besides her 13 children, Mrs. Alston had 28 grandchildren, 130 great-grandchildren and 60 great-great-grandchildren.

The exact age of Mrs. Alston is not known. However, the question came up about six years ago when her son, James, died at the age of 80.

When he expressed a wish to see his mother before he died, hospital officials were surprised to find that a man of his age should have a mother still living.

They found Mrs. Alston and brought her to him. It was then that an attempt was made to state her age.

THIS WAR IS OVER: Apparently believing in preparedness, a gang of hoodlums who police say are responsible for a large number of robberies and burglaries, scooped up this assortment of firearms during a burglary but didn't get very far. Det. Lt. Spurgeon Davenport and Sgt. John Glenn, shown above, examining the captured arms, took weapons from the trunk of a car in which they arrested Wayman Kimball and Charles Johnson. Harold Brown and George Higgins were later arrested. Detectives believe the quartet is responsible for many holdups of liquor stores and neighborhood grocery stores. Sgt. Glenn (right) is holding a vicious-looking sawed-off shotgun reportedly used by members of the gang in holdups. (RECORDER PHOTO by Jim Cummings.)

Group To Discuss "Is There Equal Justice In Marion County Courts?"

The Indianapolis Branch NAACP is going to hold a meeting about a controversial question and they don't care who knows it.

In fact, branch leaders hope to draw a large turnout to the annual election meeting Friday, Dec. 11, by presenting a star-studded panel discussion of the question:

"Is There Equal Justice in Marion County Courts?"

The "hot" issue will be discussed from all angles in the forum to be held at the Phyllis Wheatley YWCA, beginning at 8 p.m.

Among participants in the novel

JUDGE SAUL I. RABB of Criminal Court II.

Assistant City Attorney RUFUS C. KUYKENDALL.

Believe Arrests Clear Up Many Recent Crimes

Detectives hit the biggest jackpot in recent years when they captured four robbery suspects and confiscated a mountain of assorted firearms within the last week.

Jailed on preliminary charges of robbery were:

WAYMAN JOSEPH KIMBALL, 26, 2428 North Arsenal avenue.

CHARLES JOHNSON, 32, 725 Torbett.

GEORGE EDMOND HIGGINS, 23, 725 Torbett.

HAROLD BROWN, 26, 2124 1/2 Carrollton avenue.

Suspected of being members of burglary and robbery gangs which have terrorized liquor stores and neighborhood grocery stores during the past six months, the men are being held in Marion County Jail under $10,000 bond each, pending municipal court hearings Dec. 7.

Detective Lieut. Spurgeon Davenport and Sergeants John Glenn and Garland Jones made the arrests and were credited by superiors with outstanding work.

Men Indicted For Murder Trade For Light Raps

Two men charged with murder were allowed to plead guilty to manslaughter and get off with 2-to-21-year sentences Monday, following a jury's acquittal Friday of last week of a woman charged with the same grave crime.

John Thomas Tandy, 30-year-old confessed knife slayer by Bobby K. Jordan, 20, 1317 N. West, received his manslaughter verdict from Judge Harry O. Chamberlin in Criminal Court I.

James Alexander, 40, indicted on a first degree murder charge for the fatal stabbing of John Reynolds, 25, 1026 W. 23rd, gained his manslaughter sentence in the Hamilton Circuit Court Noblesville before Judge Tom R. White. Mrs. Verna Lee Williams, 24, 1423 Renton, charged with first degree murder in the stabbing death of Mrs. Roberta Pope, 30, 642 Blackford, was acquitted after a four-day jury trial before Judge Chamberlin.

TANDY, 525 W. VERMONT, confessed to stabbing Jordan last Jan. 17 in the 800 block Indiana avenue during a fight.

A slight, emotional man, Tandy in court remorsefully detailed the events he said led to the stabbing. At several points his voice cracked and tears crowded the corners of his eyes.

He told Judge Chamberlin that Jordan was one of three men who

"GOD" IS ANGRY: A terrible curse has been hurled across the land and maybe the world by the inimitable Father Divine against all those who in any manner had anything to do, write or say about the public unveiling of his inner sanctum by Sociologist Sara Harris and her collaborator, Harriet Crittenden.

These intrepid souls spent 10 weeks at Father Divine's 32-room "Country Seat of the World," near Philadelphia, interviewing the man his followers call God, talking to many devotees of his Peace Heavens, conversing with his "angels," and giving the place a good "once-over."

Father's wrath was stirred after they had the temerity to publish what they found in a book, "Father Divine, Holy Husband."

For this blasphemy, Father has pronounced a curse against "the book's writers, publishers, republishers, all who publish anything about the book, such as book reviews, all readers of the book, critics, followers, preachers, believers, harmonizers, as well as nations and others that coincide with those lies published in the book."

"They are cursed with consumption, with fever, with inflammation, with the sword... They shall be smitten with both of Egypt, with fire, with burning, with emeralds, with madness and blindness and heart trouble."

The "Man They Call God" went on to say in his malediction spoken before his followers and published in his newspaper, The New Day:

"I am a dynamo of salvation and yet destruction to those who contact me inharmoniously... I have cursed them down to the bottomless pit of earth... I curse them without mercy... I curse them without pity... I curse them without compassion or sympathy... Aren't you glad?"

Echoed Father's applauding congregation, "Yes, so glad."

Charles Lonzo Posey, 21, 2817 Burton, was bound over to the grand jury on a charge of assault and battery with intent to rape Monday, in connection with an alleged attempt to rape an 18-year-old Westside girl Saturday night.

Posey was arrested by officers who, summoned to Michigan and Blackford streets by Roosevelt Bailey, 39, 506 N. California, said they caught him in the rape attempt.

Bailey, hearing a woman screaming, called police and led them to an alley where they found Posey and his alleged victim.

Posey is under $5,000 bond.

Teacher Admits Being Sucker For Communists

BROOKLYN (ANP)—Mrs. Dorothy Kelle Funn, school teacher and club woman, returned to her home at 1522 Union St., with a feeling of recompense for being made a dupe by Communists in what she thought was a legitimate fight for the rights of her people during the first half of the 1940s.

She gave the House Un-American activities committee a graphic expose of the operations and infiltration methods in the ranks of unsuspecting civic groups.

Mrs. Funn was one of 13 teachers called in by the New York City board of Education for questioning on Red affiliations early this year.

Wednesday her appearance was before the sub-committee at a hearing in Philadelphia on possible Communist infiltration into the Philadelphia school system.

Several Philadelphia school teachers were heard.

MRS. FUNN TOLD of attending indoctrination meetings every two weeks to get theoretical education in Marxism and Leninism and to discuss specific items in "The Daily Worker."

She said the group received instruction to "influence" pupils, parents and community organizations.

She quoted from a pamphlet titled "People's Front," which she described as one of the Communist party bibles. She said the article urged teachers "to take advantage of their position, without exposing themselves, to give their students, to the best of their ability, a working class education."

In her testimony, she declared that she took a six-week course at a Communist school located just outside Kingston, N. Y. at which 27 of the 30 students were New York teachers.

tion auxiliaries. This list includes: Mrs. Washington. Women's Convention; Mrs. Robbie Baker, Matrons' Convention; Mrs. Lillian Hall, Supervisor Young People; Mrs. Birdie Jefferson, Ministers' Wives; James L. Brown, Laymen's Convention; Rev. Jesse Fox, Sunday School and BTU Congress, and Rev. R. H. Faulkner, Dean of the Congress.

Rev. Hughley serves as chairman of the Christmas drive and E. W. Winfield the secretary.

The Union District association has gone steadily forward under the leadership of Rev. Pittman, since he was elected moderator last May, at which time he was serving as the association's corresponding secretary.

BORN IN MISSISSIPPI, he joined the Baptist Church at an early age. After finishing public schools, he attended Jackson College at Jackson, Miss.

Undertaking preparation for the ministry, he studied theology at Alcorn College and the Southern Christian Institute, Edward, Miss.

Licensed and ordained to preach, he served as pastor of a number of outstanding churches in Mississippi and in Baptist ministerial groups as recording secretary of the Coahoma County Baptist District association for 13 years; board member of the General Missionary Baptist State Convention; and first vice-moderator of the Coahoma County District association for three years.

REV. PITTMAN had been pastor of the Bethlehem Baptist Church, Lula, Miss., for 17 years when called to Tabernacle Baptist Church here six years ago.

Within that short time, "the membership has grown by leaps and bounds," he said, he having baptized and added so many new members as to constitute practically a junior church.

Through the loyal cooperation of the membership, the church building has been redecorated, the heating system repaired and made adequate at a cost of more than $1,200, the mortgage completely paid on one six-room house owned by the church, and another dwelling purchased for which it is hoped payments will be completed within the next 18 months.

Plans are under way to remodel the church structure sometime next year.

Rev. Pittman has served as secretary of the Baptist Ministers' Alliance and is presently secretary of the Indiana State Baptist Missionary Convention.

OTHER OFFICERS of the Union District association serving under Rev. Pittman, the moderator, are:

Rev. Frank Jefferson, first vice-moderator; Rev. M. M. Allen, second vice-moderator; E. W. Winfield, recording; Rev. Carl Hughes, corresponding; and Mrs. Ruth Souels, statistical secretaries; Rev. Samuel Swancey, treasurer.

Other officials are: Rev. B. T. Hughes, superintendent of missions; Mrs. Eva Leonard, historian, in addition to those officials appearing on the program and named above.

Rev. Pittman Heads Bapt. Foreign Missions Drive

The annual Foreign Missions Christmas drive sponsored by the Union District association will be held at the Tabernacle Baptist Church, 810 W. North street, December 10.

Rev. Z. P. Pittman, pastor of the Tabernacle Church and moderator of the association, heads the drive and will deliver the annual message.

The evening's program opens with devotions led by representatives of the Women's Convention, Mrs. Ethel Washington, president and followed by a short business session under supervision of Rev. William Hughley, master of ceremonies.

Short talks will be made by the various presidents of the association.

Injured Girl Rushed To St. Vincent's

Miss Darleen Wright, 18, 2150 Shriver avenue, was injured and rushed to St. Vincent's hospital Tuesday night when the car in which she was riding with Army Sgt. William R. Spencer, 23, was involved in an accident with five other cars.

Sgt. Spencer, Ft. Harrison, was operating his vehicle north on Illinois, when he apparently lost control in the 2300 block. The car bounced off four parked cars and struck a station wagon which also was being operated on the wide, one-way street.

Mau Guerrilla Warfare Still Rages in Kenya

NAIROBI, Kenya (ANP)—The first anniversary of Mau Mau terror in this once-peaceful colony finds the guerrilla war still going strong, with no end in sight.

Despite the presence of five crack British infantry battalions, the Mau Mau, according to observers here, still is firmly entrenched.

In spite of the toll in lives, wounded and imprisoned, members of the secret society are showing no signs of losing faith in their campaign, to rid Kenya of the European rulers.

In the year since a state of emergency was declared, some 5,000 Africans and 50 Europeans have been killed, and the outbreaks have nearly stifled the economic life of the colony.

A Mau Mau army, estimated at 27,000 strong, is playing havoc with Nairobi and other nearby areas.

The nationalistic army has taken refuge in the forests and mountains out of the reach of British bombs.

But any minute white settlers here expect another attack which will leave them victims of the knife-wielding warriors.

TO DESTROY THE MAU MAU, the British government sent Sir George Erskine, a regular army general, to take charge of the war against the dreaded Africans.

Sir George commands an integrated army which has been killing Mau Mau at the rate of 40 a week.

However, at that rate it was estimated that it would take 15 years to rid Kenya of the warriors, and Kenya cannot afford a campaign as drawn out as that.

Even if Sir George should succeed in destroying the Mau Mau, there is no certainty that peace would be restored to Kenya.

A purely military victory would still leave the fundamental causes of the trouble to be dealt with.

In commenting on the latter issue, Dudley Hawkins of the New York World-Telegram and Sun, said:

"BEHIND ALL THE TERROR lies one big factor—the Kikuyu, and other Kenya tribes are underprivileged.

"The reserves, set aside for their farming, are not especially fertile, and the Africans' farming methods are slipshod to begin with.

"In Nairobi alone, some 10,000 are to all extents and purposes homeless.

"The whole Mau Mau mess might vanish overnight if some mineral wealth were found in Kenya.

"That would give the Africans a new source of income, and Africans with earning power are usually not interested in terrorism.

"The African, as many British in Kenya have come to realize, must feel that he is a partner in the enterprise of the colony. He must be given something that he will not want to lose.

"Without such assurances, Mau Mau in one form or another will continue."

Appoint Three New Policemen

Appointment of three more Negroes to the police force was announced recently by Chief of Police John Ambuhl.

Albert Sheridan, Jr., 33-year-old former Indiana heavyweight boxing champion, was among the appointees. Sheridan lives at 1033 West 28th.

James F. "Bruiser" Gaines, 33, 611 Locke, No. 302, and Averette W. Corley, 26, 2601 Boulevard Place, were also appointed.

Gaines, former football player with the Lincoln Bears, is well-known throughout Indianapolis for his founding and direction of the annual Lockfield Dust Bowl Basketball Tournament which attracts hoopers from over the state.

The new officers entered an eight-week training course November 12.

Chief Ambuhl also announced that Patrolmen Colton Chaney and Warden A. Holland, Jr., have been switched. Chaney was named head of the Douglass PAL club which Holland headed for several years. Holland was switched to Car 27, vested by Chaney.

Survivors are his mother, Mrs. Melvina Shaw; sister, Mrs. Ellen Alvies, and two brothers, Leonard and Nullen Shaw, all of Indianapolis.

Loves To Steal; Hates Penalty

A Southside man who resisted police, vowing "I'd rather die than go back to prison," last weekend began suffering a fate he apparently thinks worse than death as he started serving 180 days on the State Farm.

Floyd A. Grooms, 29, 2201 Pleasant, caught breaking into the Vollrath Tavern, 118 E. Palmer, November 14, was sentenced Thursday of last week on charges of resisting arrest and malicious trespassing.

He was fined $1 and costs and sentenced to 60 days on the first charge and got a fine of $20 and costs and 180 days for the trespassing charge.

Police caught Grooms in front of the tavern and charge that he admitted breaking into the place. He gained entrance by smashing a beer bottle against a window. His right hand was cut.

Patrolman William H. Sandlin was left to guard Grooms as fellow officers went into the business place to investigate.

Grooms voiced his vow, kicked Sandlin in the stomach and bolted across the street.

He stopped however, when the officer fired a shot into the ground and ordered him to halt.

The persistent Grooms jumped Sandlin a gain. Sandlin said, Sandlin said Grooms pinned his arm to his side, knelt him in the stomach and kicked him in the shin in an attempt to take his revolver.

The officer finally won out and Grooms was taken to General hospital for treatment of the cut hand.

British Bomb Maus Hiding In Forests

NAIROBI, Kenya (ANP)—The first rain of bombs was dropped on Mau Mau in the Aberdare forest here last week in the opening phase of bombing operations designed to force the guerrilla fighters to flee to open areas.

In the initial bombing, three bombers dropped 17,500 and 1,000 pound bombs on the Mau Mau hideout. The bombings will be continued, according to the bomb squadron commander.

Helping the bombers was a light plane of the Kenya police reserve which served as spotter.

Bomber crews were unable to assess the results of the raid. "We felt the blast and saw trees fold, but it was impossible to see anything more," one said.

Social Scene

By RICHARD C. HENDERSON

While most of you were busily dashing about to the many fabulous dances and cocktail parties over this mad weekend, one RCH was more quietly busy at an unusually wide variety of things.

Before telling you about them, deepest sympathy to Mrs. Annetta Lawson, whose husband, J. Robert Lawson, was interred at Crown Hill cemetery Saturday morning following a Requiem Mass at St. Philip's, with Rev. Oscar E. Holder as celebrant. Fr. Holder, former vicar at St. Philip's, is now chaplain at West Virginia State College and vicar of St. James Episcopal Church, Charleston, W. Va.

Other than being somewhat saddened at the news of Bob Lawson's death on Thanksgiving Day, I spent the day rather peacefully as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Waugh and family, thinking how lucky people are who have family and friends they can gather around them during the winter holidays.

The traditional turkey was, of course, served, and Louise used a rich blue damask cloth which made a perfect background for the china, crystal and dill pickle service. The food, it va sans dire, was superb!

Seated as guests around the big table were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Green, and Messrs. and Mesdames Amos Thompson and Everett I. Hall, while occupying the small fry's table along with the Waugh's own little ones, Judy, Dixie Lou and Benja. were Marie Hall, Michael Dabner and Albert and Joan Myers.

Coming by later were Mr. and Mrs. David Clark, and an enjoyable evening of cards, marred only by the fact that the vicious falls, playing opposite Wallace and me, insisted upon betting us rather pitilessly, got off to a start with champagne cocktails. . . . Dear "Uncle John," by the way, did NOT find an innocent one in me for his special "atomic bomb" cocktails this year. . . .

I got in quite a lot of bridge over the weekend. On Friday night enjoyed a brief session at the Leland Baileys.

Then on Saturday night helped make a foursome at Mrs. Dona Goodwin's, but with reports in Willie Mae Johnson and Rose H. Thompson. Perhaps the idea of eating some of Mrs. Goodwin's famous food inspired me—at any rate, the bad luck took a sudden change for the better!

By the way, I was extremely sorry to have missed the card party of the local Zeta Phi Betas at the FAC Home on Friday night, having to play for the recital of Mrs. Maxine McIntosh Ferguson (she sang quite beautifully, incidentally), but the reports indicate it was a brilliant success.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Hayes had a very big Thanksgiving. Two of their sons and their families were here. Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hayes and daughter, Mignon, Detroit, came Wednesday night, and Dr. Raymond F. Hayes and son, Raymond, Jr., and daughter, Bea, came Friday after having spent Thursday in Cincinnati with Mrs. Hayes' relatives.

They celebrated the holiday with a big turkey dinner on Saturday with all the family present. Also guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Harry and Miss Mildred Sirls. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Dodson had her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Clark and daughter, Toni, from Chicago and South Haven, for their weekend guests. They had been to the family home in Louisville on Thursday. Eight-year-old Toni, incidentally, speaks French quite fluently—she may give inspiration to the youngsters at School 87 who are studying French while still in elementary school. There's a picture of the class on these pages this week.

Also in for Thanksgiving was Miss Dorothy Taylor, who was home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Taylor, Sr. Dorothy is in her first year as a teacher in the Gary school system.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Hanley spent the Thanksgiving weekend in Milwaukee, while Mr. and Mrs. Cal Thompson and son, Lester Walker Thompson, visited relatives in Owensboro, Ky., seeing her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Howard; Mr. Thompson's mother, Mrs. Hattie Thompson, and sister, Miss Frances Thompson, an instructor at Tennessee A. and L. Nashville.

Speaking of Thanksgiving—Miss Ollie Middleton is in a happy frame of mind, having heard Wednesday that she has been accepted as a member of the Indianapolis Medical Assistants Association. The group is planning a Christmas party Tuesday at the Anlers Hotel, she tells me.

Members of the Book Lovers club enjoyed a review of "The Silver Chalice" by Thomas B. Costain, given by Mrs. Russell A. Lane at the last meeting, held in the home of Mrs. J. Wesley Hall. Feature of the evening was the presentation by Mrs. Henry L. Hummons of highlights of her vacation trip in the East this fall, including a tour of the United Nations Building and the Shafar Award dinner honoring Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Clark, noted New York City psychiatrists.

Mrs. John R. Norrell is president of the club, and Mrs. Lionel F. Artis is secretary.

Gaillard Unit 107, American Legion Auxiliary, will hold its regular monthly meeting Friday in the post home and hear final reports on the Armistice Day Tea, given by Mrs. Ann Kennerly, who was general chairman. Mrs. Emory James is chairman of hostesses. Mrs. Eric Suter is president of the unit, and Mrs. Maude Gaillard is secretary.

The Women Sponsors of The Recorder Cheer Fund will hold their regular monthly meeting Saturday afternoon at Sam's Subway, a meeting I hope to be able to attend. You know, in some ways, the Women Sponsors group was my idea. Yet for the past year I have been unable to attend sessions, vitally pressing things generally coming at the same time. My fingers are securely crossed about Saturday.

The Delphinium Garden club will meet with Mrs. Guy L. Grant to discuss plans for the club Christmas party. Mrs. David C. Reynolds is president. Members of the Alpha Home Association will enjoy their Christmas party next Thursday evening at the Alpha Home, having a pitch-in covered dish supper and exchanging gifts. Mrs. Grace Brynne is general chairman of the affair, and hostesses will be Mesdames Rhea Baxter, Maude Gaillard and Virginia Fleming and Miss Frances Stout.

Zeta Phi chapter of Omega Psi Phi fraternity is issuing this week bids to its annual formal dance, to be held this year on December 11 at the Walker Casino.

Among the more interesting items in the mail this week was an invitation from Dr. and Mrs. Emmett I. Brown, Sr., to the marriage of their daughter, Doris Maxine, to Leon Bradford, to take place December 27 at Second Christian Church.

Also interesting was a card from Mrs. Mary P. McGuire, postmarked Buffalo, N. Y., so the logical assumption is that she is visiting there. She says folks there enjoyed reading the Thanksgiving prayer printed last week, to which I subtly reply, "There are many such meaningful prayers in the 'Book of Common Prayer,' which is read from each Sunday in every Episcopal Church in the world." And with that sly bit of pro-se-litizing, I bid adieu.

THEY'RE SPEAKING FRENCH: Learning to speak French in an experimental program of foreign language at the elementary school level are Judy Marbury, Phyllis Hyatt, Donald Clark, Janet Owens, Gail Malone, Priscilla Brown, Henry Richardson, Patricia Myers, Lynn Ridley and Sharon Betty, students at School No. 87, with their teacher, Mrs. Pauline Morton-Finney. School No. 87 is one of the city's 17 elementary schools offering conversational French. Following the success of experiments with foreign language teaching at the early level in Cleveland, Washington, D. C., and Los Angeles, Indianapolis adopted the plan three years ago. Mrs. Vivian Mary is principal of the school.

Martha Duewson Entertains Friends At El-Amigo Celebrating Birthday

Friends of Mrs. Martha Duewson, popularly known as "Deany," were highly entertained when she celebrated her birthday on Monday night, November 23, at the El-Amigo Club Home. Table appointments carried out the Thanksgiving motif, with miniature turkeys as centerpieces and individual cups of goodies. A delectable repast of turkey, ham and potato salad was served. Mrs. Duewson was attractively gowned in green tulle over white crinoline, fashioned in ruffled petticoat style and her accessories were rhinestones and in white. The proprietors of LaVogue Beauty Salon, where she is an operator, were special guests, along with Mrs. Elizabeth Tucker, lady barber.

Mrs. Kathryn "Kitty" Cross was attired in a gown featuring a black velvet bodice with crimson ruffled crinoline skirt. Her suede slippers and accessories were in black. Mrs. Hannah Smith wore black crepe with rhinestone accentuations. Mrs. Marjorie Lacey was charming in baby blue net with a matching stole, and Mrs. N. Tucker wore peach net with gold and rhinestone accentuations.

The other ladies were gowned in various hues of evening apparel enhanced with the sharpness of the men's informal apparel of navy blue and black suits. Dancing was enjoyed, as well as an assortment of beverages from the club's bar, dispensed by capable bartenders.

Lee Roane, James Lambert, Clara Bennett, L. D. Jones, Velvet Dwyer, Johnny White, Nathan Dibrell, Carlene Hawkins, Audrey Alexander, Iotha Jones, Mrs. Milan Johnson and Pete Green.

Also guests were Blanche Tucker, Cora Dorsey, Mary Carter, Hattie Winchester, Clinton Tucker, Beulah Phillips, Melvin Smith, Janie Gant, Carrie Fields, Juanita Ross, Melvin Young, Jean Winslow, Nanette Gore, Dorothy Collier, Levia Harris, William Torrence, Rupert Johnson, Pauline Fletcher, Betty Taylor, Leroy Fykes, Robbie Adams, William Sansbury, Samuel Seagraves, Louise Davis, Annette Williams, Beatrice Sloan, Georgia Walker, Marvin King, Louise Rouse, Milton Jones, Clara Gaddie and M. Thomas Ervin, who took pictures of the group.

ENJOYING WILD GAME DINNER: Informality was the keynote November 21, when members of the Civil Service Conservation Club and their guests enjoyed a wild game dinner in the recreation room of St. Philip's Episcopal Church. In the photograph Richard D. Hampton, president, pours coffee for Ulysses Brown, a fellow member. To the right of Brown is Mrs. Brown, recording secretary of the club.

Conservation Club Has Dinner, Plans To Purchase Property

Members of the Civil Service Conservation Club, Inc. enjoyed their second annual game banquet recently in the recreation room of St. Philip's Episcopal Church. All types of wild game were enjoyed with a variety of vegetables and pies, prepared by various members of the group.

The club was incorporated by the State of Indiana on May 9, 1952, stating as its purpose "to help improve conservation in the State of Indiana, to teach proper use of firearms and fishing equipment, and to teach better sportsmanship within this organization."

Growing steadily since its organization, the group already boasts two subdivisions—a gun club and an outdoor nature group. The gun club has sponsored a turkey shoot, and the outdoor group has enjoyed trips to various state parks.

The club was founded in the local Post Office, but has branched out into varied fields of work. It is a member of the Marion County Group of Conservation Clubs and also the State Federation of Conservation Clubs.

Several meetings have been held in the auditorium of the Conservation Headquarters, 311 West Washington street.

The club has launched plans to buy property of its own in the near future.

Officers at present are Richard D. Hampton, president; Mrs. Sarah Hayes, vice-president; Mrs. Cherry Brown, recording secretary; Mrs. Cordelia Moore, assistant recording secretary; Richard Aden, financial secretary, and Robert Martin, treasurer.

Election of new officers is planned for this month, and the club's activities also include the distribution of baskets of food for the needy at Christmas.

The membership at present includes Messrs. and Mesdames Ulysses Brown, Horace Hayes, Richard Hampton, Vance Young, Robert Martin and Carlisle J. Hughes. Mesdames Margaret Beauford, Cor-

Rhapsody In Fashion Called Among Best Style Shows

"Rhapsody in Fashions" became one of the season's most attractive style shows when it was held Sunday afternoon, November 22, in the Northwestern Community Center. Sponsored by Mrs. Elizabeth Williams and the Paris Beauty Salon, it was the first presentation of the Beauty Arts Guild.

The guild provided the large audience with an unusual feature, the presentation of Theodore Charles Stone, nationally known Chicago baritone, as commentator and helped stage the production.

One of the leading male hair stylists of the city, Wilbert Johnson, was also the leading model along with T. Collier Patterson in the male wing.

Other models who won hearty applause for their fashions were Edwina Bell, Barbara Sneed, Ida Coleman, Ida Mae Parker, Thelma Hollingshed, Mercedes Piercy, little Paulette Williams, Velma Armstrong, Celestine Black, Linda Hill, Nora Parker, Lula Kilcrease, Thelma Hollis, Susie Hodges, Mary Paul, Phyllis O'Bannon, Darlene Lovelace, Beverly West, Brenda Sue Rice, Clara O'Bannon and Clemmie Patterson.

Lending to the production were the organ music played by Doris Stokes and piano accompaniments by Miss Clara Reese Kirk for Mr. Stone. Also singing was James W. Robinson, well-known local vocalist.

Hair styles for the show were created by Lorraine Saunders, Mary Byers, Martha Greer, Norma Rouse, Anna Hughes, Ethel Tate, Admiral Hill, Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Williams, who was chairman of the committee.

Grand Body Sisters of Charity opening Sunday, December 13th, beginning at 3 p. m. until at their new LOCATION, 1034-1036 North West Street. All are looking forward to this great event, a joy to the members of the organization. The late lamented Sister Parthena Crawford, was our Grand Body President for many years and it was she who presented this project to us and we joined her in this effort. We can never forget her, because of her untiring work in securing this NEW LOCATION. We could not stop but had to press on. We are in a Christian battle, our soldiers numbered many, some were called by death, others could not stand but the few with us have kept the faith. We will keep up the good fight. The end is not yet. All members and friends know of their pledges. We are asking you that you see us or send your pledges. A splendid program awaits you. The public is cordially invited to be present.

Know Your Minister

Rev. William McClure, D. D., age 79, born at Montgomery County, Clarksville, Tenn., the son of George and Sally McClure, makes his contribution to the church and public at large. Having received the degree of Doctor of Divinity in 1917 from Princeton University Theological Seminary, he has given 61 unregrettable years for Christ, and during 51 of these he fruitfully pastored. Dr. McClure now, through the dedication of his life and his works to Christ, is doing special evangelistic work.
His ministerial career is monumented by the many souls he has saved and the churches he has built and remodeled. Since coming to Indianapolis from the St. John Baptist Church of Terre Haute, the last church he built and pastored, he has affiliated himself with the Ministerial Alliance and the Minister's Conference and is engaged in the field of labor for Christ and Kingdom Building.
"To awaken this Atomic age of hydrogen bombs, worldly actions, deeds and thoughts, to evangelize and to Christianize, the church must come back to the New Testament and teaching as Christ gave the marching order to the church. To reach its God-given objective, her first prerogative must of necessity be one of Evangelism," sums up Rev. McClure's philosophy.

Equal" Theory

In the five school segregation cases scheduled for reargument on Dec. 7, answered the five specific questions raised by the high court last June.

The brief contended that: "1. . . . The primary and persuasive purpose of the 14th Amendment, as is shown by its history and as has repeatedly been declared by this court, was to secure for Negroes full and complete equality before the law and to abolish all legal distinctions based on race or color.

"2. . . . The legislative history of the amendment in congress is not conclusive.

"3. . . . The available materials relating to the ratification proceedings in the various state legislatures are too scanty and incomplete, and the specific reference to school segregation too few and scattered, to justify any definite conclusion as to the existence of a general understanding in such legislatures, as to effect which the amendment would have on school segregation.

"4. . . . It is within the judicial power to direct such relief as will be effective and just in eliminating existing segregated school systems.

"5. . . . If the court holds that laws providing for separated schools for white and colored are unconstitutional, it should remand the instant cases to the lower courts with directions to carry out the court's decision as expeditiously as the particular circumstances permit."

THE CASES INVOLVED originated in Clarendon County, S. C.; Prince Edward County, Va.; Wilmington, Del.; Topeka, Kan., and Washington, D. C.

In the Wilmington case, Negroes won the right to enter formerly all-white schools. However officials there appealed the decision.

Since the suit was filed, Topeka has officially ended segregation in its elementary grades. Junior and senior high schools have been integrated for some time.

The impending high court decision is being awaited by whites as well as Negroes throughout the nation because of its social and economic implications.

Some southern governors have predicted chaos if segregation is outlawed. Among them are Herman Talmadge of Georgia and James Byrnes of South Carolina.

Both states have acted to abolish public schools in the event Jim Crow is knocked out.

ON THE OTHER HAND, other southern leaders have said that the South will accept and make the best of what it considers an unfavorable decision.

When the Supreme Court postponed a ruling on the question in June, it sought answers to five questions concerning the 14th Amendment. The court asked what evidence there was that the Congress which submitted the 14th Amendment and the states which ratified it, understood or did not understand that it would abolish segregation in the schools, and if this was not understood, what evidence was there that it authorized future congresses or the courts to end segregation.

In its brief answering the questions, the NAACP said in part: "There is ample evidence that the congress which submitted and the states which ratified the 14th Amendment contemplated and understood that the amendment would deprive the states of the power to impose any racial distinction in determining when, where and how its citizens would enjoy the various civil rights afforded by the states.

"THE RIGHT TO PUBLIC SCHOOL EDUCATION was one of the civil rights with respect to which the states were deprived of the power to impose racial distinctions. In short, the 14th Amendment was designed to take from the states all power to enforce caste or class distinctions.

"The Supreme Court has made it plain that no state may use color or race as the axis upon which the state's power turns, and the conduct of the public education systems has not been excepted from the ban."

Atty. Gen. Brownell was not as sure as the NAACP of the intent of the 14th Amendment. In his brief, he said, among other things: "While the legislative history does not conclusively establish that the congress which proposed the 14th Amendment specifically understood that it would abolish racial segregation in public school, there is ample evidence that it did understand that the amendment established the broad constitutional principles of full and complete equality of all persons under the law, and that it forbade all legal distinctions based on race or color."

IF THE HIGH COURT OUTLAWs segregation, many persons are wondering if it will issue an order for an immediate or gradual end. There are many possible decisions on the question. Among them are:

That segregation is constitutional, but equal facilities must be provided with all possible speed.

That segregation is constitutional when facilities are, in fact, equal, but Negro pupils must be admitted to white schools unless or until equal facilities are provided.

That the court need not rule on the broad constitutional question, but may decide each case separately on its own merits—ordering integration wherever, in the court's judgment, that is the only way to achieve equal educational opportunity.

That the separate but equal doctrine is unconstitutional, but time might be allowed for integration under such direction as the court prescribes.

ONE OF THE ARGUMENTS used by proponents of segregation is the Supreme Court decision rendered in 1896. It was at that time in the case of Plessy vs. Ferguson that the separate but equal theory was given approval.

However, in that case one member of the court dissented, main-

NAACP Leader Says Fate of All JC Involved in School Decision

by Channing H. Tobias
Chairman, Board of Directors
(NAACP)

The five public school segregation cases scheduled for reargument before the United States Supreme Court beginning Monday, December 7, involve much more than the issue of segregation in the particular school districts in South Carolina, Virginia, and District of Columbia, Kansas and Delaware.

Technically, of course, the Court will render its decision only on the cases before it.

But the implications of the Court's ruling extend far beyond considerations of what is to be done in these specific cases.

AT ULTIMATE STAKE is the future of the anachronistic system of segregation not only in education but also in all other phases of the public life of the nation.

For the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People have long maintained that segregation is a divisive and anti-democratic device designed to perpetuate an obsolete caste system which flatly contravenes the basic ethical concepts of our Judeo-Christian tradition.

WE HAVE HELD that segregation per se is unconstitutional. Should the Court uphold this point of view it could mean that all laws requiring or permitting racial segregation in schools, transportation, recreation, shelter, and public accommodations, generally, would ultimately be invalid.

When Thurgood Marshall and other NAACP lawyers associated with him address the nine justices of the country's highest tribunal they will argue the merits of the cases before the court.

taining that segregation was unconstitutional. He was Harlan F. Stone.

Still another famed jurist has issued a dissenting opinion challenging the constitutionality of segregation in schools. He is J. Waties Waring, former federal judge in South Carolina. In his opinion on the Clarendon county case, the then Judge Waring held that segregation per se (itself) is inequality.

So, many persons are eagerly waiting to see if the opinions of Stone and Waring will be embodied in the forthcoming high court ruling or whether the ideas of such southerners as Talmadge and Byrnes will prevail.

What position the government will take is not positively known at this writing.

However, it is generally believed that the government will again

But implicit in their argument will be a challenge to the validity of all legislation which separates one American from another on the totally irrelevant basis of race, color, religion or national origin.

IMPORTANCE OF CASES RECOGNIZED

We, of course, do not know what decision the Court will render after hearing the arguments of our lawyers, the attorneys for the several states, and the spokesmen for the United States Government. We do know that the Court recognizes the importance of these cases. This was clearly indicated by the order to reargue the cases, the request that the Attorney General present the government's views of the issue, and the five vital questions posed by the Court.

THE IMPORTANCE the NAACP attaches to these cases is demonstrated by the extensive research our legal department has undertaken in preparation for the argument. Mr. Marshall has secured the cooperation of more than 130 lawyers, law professors, historians, and other social scientists in digging up every related fact in connection with this paramount issue.

Never before has such an array of scholarship and talent been assembled to prepare for a civil rights case. When they face the Court our lawyers will be fully confident of the validity of their arguments, the accuracy of their information, and the soundness of their theory of law.

LIKEWISE THE ADVOCATES of continued segregation are aware of the significance of these cases. To argue the Clarendon County case, the State of South Carolina has retained the services of John W. Davis, the eminent constitutional lawyer and onetime unsuccessful Democratic party nominee for President.

They have also the attorneys general of their respective states and private lawyers to represent them at the expense of the taxpayers, Negro as well as white.

They are doubtlessly prepared to make the most of their arguments. The Department of Justice has assigned a staff under the direction of an Assistant Attorney General to prepare the government's argument.

What position the government will take is not positively known at this writing.

However, it is generally believed that the government will again content that segregation is unconstitutional just as the Department argued last year at the hearing on this issue.

It seems most unlikely that the new Republican administration will take a less forthright position against segregation than that taken by the preceding Democratic administration.

MAY MEAN BEGINNING OF END

If the Court decides that segregation per se is unconstitutional it will not mean the overnight liquidation of Jim Crow.

It will, however, herald the beginning of the end of this antiquated system.

The end will not come until the last Jim Crow sign is removed from the most backward community in the Nation. But come, it will.

We are not in the least dismayed by the threats of Governors James F. Byrnes of South Carolina and Herman Talmadge of Georgia to abandon the public school system rather than have it democratized. We have greater faith in the common sense and fundamental decency of southern white people than do these two governors. We do not believe that they would rather have their children grow up in ignorance than have them taught in the same classrooms with Negro children.

Nor do we foresee any of the dire consequences which the prophets of doom always predict when over traditional mores are changed. The admission of Negro students to graduate and professional schools of publicly financed universities in 12 southern and border states occasioned no untoward incident. Indeed, it led to the breaking of color bars in several private institutions in the region. Nor was there widespread bloodshed following the abolition of the "white primary" in the South, as predicted.

The public school system is one of the foundation stones in the structure of democracy. But if this stone itself is crumbling because of segregation in public school education, the NAACP is fighting to strengthen American democracy.

had jumped him and beaten him up as he left the Sunset Terrace.

Tandy said he ran from the men after they had beaten and kicked him. He hid in a dark doorway on the Blake street side of the dance place. He found an "old, rusty butcher knife" lying near the doorway, Tandy claimed.

When he thought the men had left the corner of Blake and Indiana avenue, Tandy said, he walked back in that direction.

The men were still there and jumped him again, the defendant charged. During the second melee Tandy took out the knife he allegedly had found and struck at Jordan. Jordan was wounded twice on the face and once in the chest.

ALEXANDER, 826 PACA, admitted stabbing John Reynolds Sept. 28, 1952, in Pat's Place, 530 Indiana avenue.

Miss Helen Calloway, 34, 416 Blake, object of an argument between Alexander and Reynolds which resulted in the killing, represented herself as Reynolds' girlfriend.

She told police that on the evening of the stabbing she had been stopped on the street by Alexander, who insisted that she accompany him to Pat's Place and have a drink.

Reynolds came into the tavern and suggested that she leave with him. Miss Calloway told police she and her boyfriend were near the door when a man reportedly approached Reynolds and told him Alexander wanted to see him at a booth in which Alexander and another man were seated.

On Reynolds' arrival at the booth, an argument started.

"Without warning," Miss Calloway said, "Reynolds pulled an eight-inch switchblade knife and slashed at Reynolds with it."

After missing his target, the woman charged, Alexander climbed frantically out of the booth and continued his assault. Reynolds was stabbed over the heart, through the heart, and was slashed across the face and stomach.

Patrolman Albert Booth apprehended Alexander at the corner of Indiana avenue and Michigan street after a foot race. The policeman was attracted to the man when patrons who witnessed the stabbing emerged from the place yelling, "Stop that man! He's killed a man!"

MRS. WILLIAMS denied stabbing Mrs. Pope, and the state's witness who in a signed statement said he had seen her do so is reportedly serving with the Army in Korea.

Mrs. Pope died Jan. 27, 1951, of a stab wound in the chest, received in a free-for-all in the 600 block of Blake street.

Mrs. Williams admitted engaging in an argument with the slain woman, calling Mrs. Pope's names and pulling her hair. However, she claims this took place before the fight.

Mrs. Williams admitted also that she cut a man, Gilliam Dowell, 35, 621 Bright, during the fight.

The defendant claims she, her sister, Mrs. Ida Mae Ammons, and William Julius Scott were seated in an after-hour place known as "Doc Collins' Place."

Mrs. Pope entered the place with Gilliam, Mrs. Juanita Anderson, 31, 641 Bright, and Mrs. Claudine Dinwiddie, 824 N. Pennsylvania.

"I called Roberta 'Red' and when she objected I pulled her hair," Mrs. Williams told the jury.

Mrs. Pope and her party reportedly left the place after this incident.

Mrs. Williams said she and her party left shortly afterward.

"Every member of Roberta's party except her was standing outside when we went out," the attractive defendant testified. She said, a fight broke out and she cut Dowell twice as the man was beating her sister.

DOWELL SAID MRS. POPE was present when the fight started.

"Verna and Roberta were arguing in front of the place," he testified. "I saw Verna strike Roberta and Roberta went down."

Dowell said Mrs. Williams cut him twice as he argued with Scott. Scott is now reported as being in Korea.

In his signed statement to detectives following the killing Scott said: "Verna and Roberta were swinging at one another. Verna had a knife in her hand and she struck Roberta with it."

Mrs. Williams testified that she had never been convicted of anything. However, her police record shows she was convicted of disorderly conduct in 1947 and 1949.

Henry R. Wilson, attorney for Mrs. Williams, during selection of the jury attacked The Recorder as embracing a theory that Negroes accused of killing other Negroes should be given a maximum sentence for the crime with which they are charged, whether or not they are guilty.

Actually, The Recorder maintains that Negroes charged with murder in the killing of other Negroes should be prosecuted as strictly as Negroes charged with murder in the killing of white persons.

A prospective Negro woman juror who admitted reading The Recorder and agreed with The Recorder's stated policy on this issue, was dismissed by Wilson.

However, one other Negro woman was seated on the jury.

Car Kills Man Crossing Street

Perlean Jenkins 53, 2806 Franklin Place, was killed almost instantly when he was struck by a car while crossing Northwestern avenue, near 28th street early Friday morning of last week.

Henley Willie Rice, 33, 1036 Eugen, drivr of th dath car, was arrested on a charge of reckless homicide and slated for not having an operator's license.

Mr. Jenkins, member of the Greater Indianapolis Elks Lodge 599, was crossing from the west side of Northwestern to the east side, approximately 150 feet north of 28th street when he was struck.

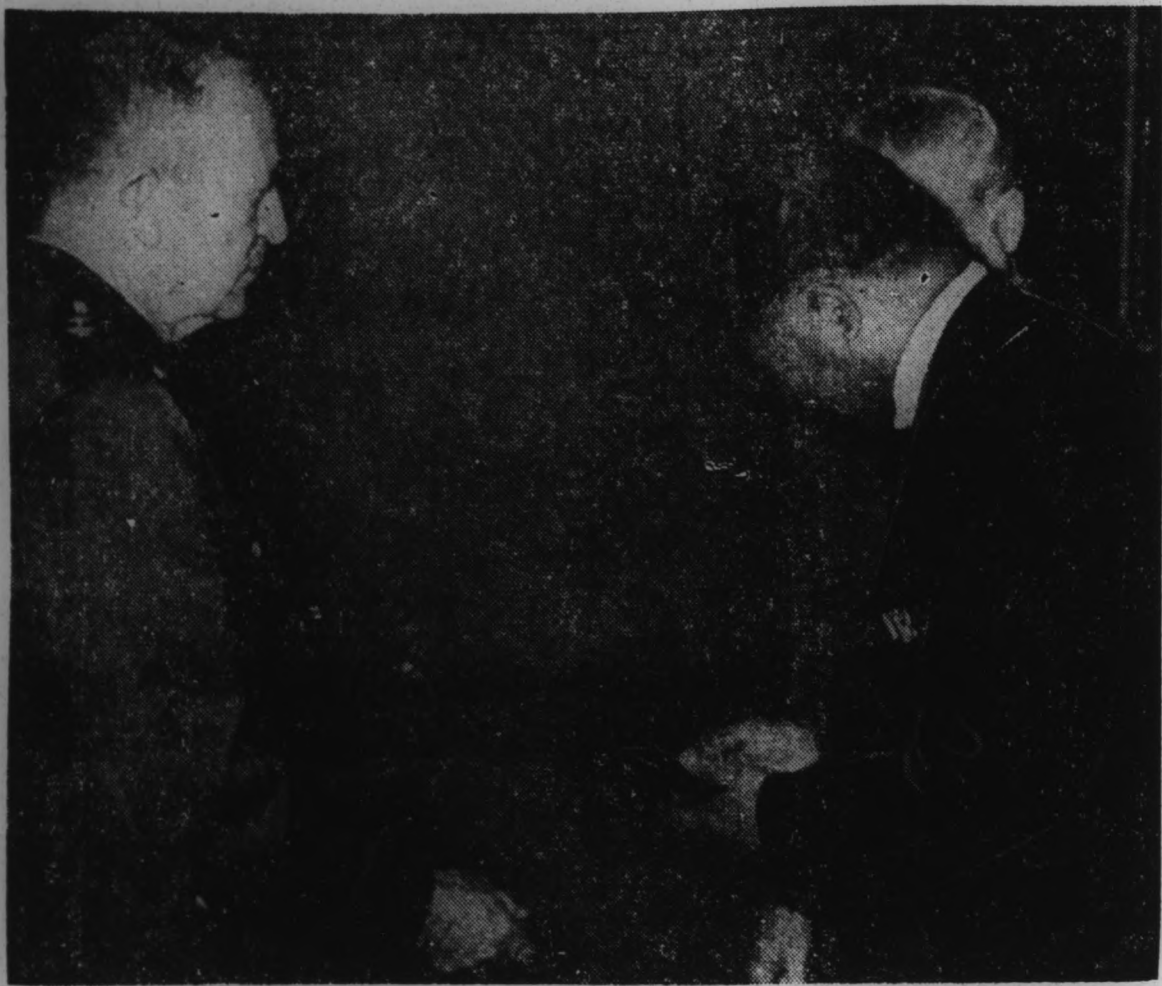

He suffered multiple injuries about the head and body and was pronounced dead by a General hospital ambulance doctor.

Rice was operating his big, late-model sedan north on Northwestern, one of the city's main traffic arteries.

it upheld his conviction before Judge Harry O. Chamberlin, Criminal Court 1, on charges of theft of $15,000 from a bartender in December last year.

He was free under a $3,500 bond. His attorney, Seymour Bagal, who presented his petition for the rehearing, said Thursday it was not yet decided whether Conner would appeal to the US Supreme Court on the ground his constitutional rights had been violated.

Recently Marion Prosecutor Frank Fairchild said that if Conner's conviction were upheld, the prosecutor's office would attempt to have Conner declared an habitual criminal which carries a penalty of life—until death, without possibility of parole or commutation of sentence.

Police say Conner has a long record of law violations from which spring strong suspicions that he had been involved in many more crimes than those for which he was caught and sentenced.

up victims and both Brown and Johnson have been pointed out as "possibles" in several holdups.

AN ARSENAL of 15 rifles and shotguns and a half dozen revolvers was found in the trunk of the car in which Johnson and Kimball were arrested Saturday night at 9th and Fayette streets.

Most of the guns were identified as those taken during a burglary of Pierson's Gun Shop, 5343 N. Keystone avenue, Nov. 27.

Lieutenant Davenport and Sergeant Glenn, hot on Kimball's trail, converged on the car when they saw it pulling up in front of 901 Fayette street.

The officers said Kimball's girl friend lives at that address. They had been there earlier and were making a check of the neighborhood when the car was spotted.

James Robert Clary, 33, 1210 N. Sheffield avenue, driver of the car, was released after he told officers he was hauling the guns and the two men from 725 Torbett to 901 Fayette on the request of Kimball, whom he has known for a long time.

George Higgins was arrested at his home. Harold Brown was picked up at a Northside filling station where he is employed.

HIGGINS AND KIMBALL were labeled the "sawed-off shotgun bandits" as they were connected with a sawed-off shotgun which was tailored short enough to fit into a briefcase.

The detectives believe the weapon, illegal by Federal laws, belonged to Kimball. They claim Kimball bought it, regular size, from a woman and then sawed it off at the pistol grip of the stock and just forward of the forearm on the barrel.

Kimball was identified as the man who held up Frank Lee's Grocery, 1118 E. 19th, several months ago, and escaped with $108. Kimball allegedly used a .45-caliber automatic in that job.

Higgins has been identified and, police say, admits holding up the Dunbar Liquor Store, 931 N. West, Nov. 22. He reportedly used the sawed-off shotgun in that robbery.

Members of the arrested quartet have been identified as the men who forced their way into 330 Douglass street several months ago and robbed a man and woman at sawed-off shotgun point, escaping with over $500.

Lieutenant Davenport and Sergeant Glenn say the men are implicated in "any number" of other holdups and burglaries.

ion County Prosecutor's office to the list.

IT IS EXPECTED that a lively talkfest will revolve around the question of whether there are different standards for Negro and white defendants in local courts.

John Harris, Elk Sgt. J. R. Lawson Leader, Buried

Members of Ft. Harrison Lodge of Elks are mourning the death of their exalted ruler, John Harris. Funeral services were held Dec. 1 at the Stuart Mortuary with customary Elk rites. Burial was in New Crown.

Mr. Harris died in Genral hospital Nov. 27. He was 60 years old and lived at 211 E. North street where he served as custodian of a large apartment building.

Born in Kentucky, he had lived here 30 years. He joined the Elks many years ago, and transferred membership from Indiana Lodge 104 to the Ft. Harrison Lodge, becoming its leader in 1947.

He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Georgia Harris; a son, Paul Harris and a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Garrett, all of Indianapolis.

The "pressure in the cooker" has become so great that a defense attorney this week challenged a woman's fitness for jury service because she read The Recorder. She was excused.

The live topic and unusual plans will draw an outpouring of members and other persons to the meeting, the NAACP's hope.

Officers will be elected to head the local branch during the coming year of crucial struggle against second-class citizenship.

Widespread changes in the leadership of the organization will be proposed, it is understood.

Officers said the charge which struck Mrs. Summers was fired from the left barrel of the gun after the trigger jammed and failed to discharge the load in the right barrel.

THE SPENT SHELL was found in Summers' pocket, and police said the barrel of the gun showed evidence of being fired.

Summers said he and his wife tussled over the gun after he grabbed the weapon to menace a caller at his home who was ordered from the premises by Mrs. Summers following an argument.

He said his wife forced the man, known to him only as "Oliver," to leave. Summers said his wife stated the visitor threatened to kill her if she stepped outside the house.

Police who arrived on the scene a few minutes after the shooting said there were two men with Summers, and both of them are said to have witnessed events which led to the shooting.

Members of the executive board have launched a drive to raise $1,000, which has been estimated as the cost of the project.

Board members are Eugene Shirley, Joe Walker, John Robinson, R. H. King, Arthur Grimes and Alice Grimes.

Plans include construction of a cabin at the rifle range and erection of a fence around the target practice area.

Contributions for the project are being accepted at the Townsend Community Center and through Alice Grimes, the club secretary.

SPOTLIGHT ON THE SCHOOLS

The series of articles on racial integration in the Indianapolis public schools, being published at this writing by The Indianapolis News, strikes us as a timely contribution of first-rate journalism.

In the absence, up to now, of accurate information on the subject, some strange and wondrous tales have spread the rounds of prejudice and hearsay. Parents groping in the dark and concerned about the welfare of their children have really been fed some lull, on both sides of the fence. The wonder is not that there is misunderstanding and suspicions, but that we get along together as well as we do.

Therefore The News and Fremont Power, the writer, are to be commended for turning their searchlight on the fog surrounding the question. Facts have been the great need, and the articles have presented the facts on the history of segregation and the progress of integration. Though this newspaper has followed the school question closely through the years, we frankly admit that we learned some things from Mr. Power's series.

There is one statement in the third article, it is true, which must be challenged. By way of apology for the "gradual" nature of the integration here, which has worked hardships on some children, Mr. Power observes: "The law stipulates it be done this way." But if he will consult the law, we believe he will find the "step" process is permissive rather than mandatory. There is nothing in the law to prevent the establishment of total integration at one stroke. Incidentally, we have a feeling that this misinformation came from Mr. Power's source rather than himself.

"If we knew where we were, and whither we were tending," said Abraham Lincoln, "we would know better what to do, and how to do it." Indianapolis now knows where we are, and whither we are tending; it should not be too hard to make up our minds what to do.

EARLHAM AND HUMAN RELATIONS

"Shameful" is the only word for the racial campaign carried on by Earlham College authorities which has resulted in the firing of a student editor because he upheld the right to choose one's social associates.

We understand that the youthful editor ran afoul of some college journalistic regulations, and it was on this that his ouster was ostensibly based. Yet the issue of freedom of the press and equality of mankind are so great as to overshadow petty technicalities in such a case. There are times when the only way to tell the truth is to violate somebody's restrictions.

The picture of the current situation at Earlham which was made public as a result of the incident is not a pretty one. It appears that in an effort to appease powerful race-hating forces of the state, and perhaps to facilitate fundraising for the building program now going on, the college authorities have embarked on a course of compelling students to act along racial lines.

This discouraging of interracial relations has been carried to the ridiculous point, according to reports, where a student may have NO MORE THAN THREE dates with another student of different "race".

The humorous aspects of this "three strikes are out" policy are so obvious that we wonder anybody can study at Earlham these days for laughing.

YET THIS SOLEMN NONSENSE has a more serious side. Apparently some, at least of these clear-eyed young Americans have risen to the point where they can disregard race in their dealings with their fellows. If so, they are the hope of our nation, for race prejudice unless overcome will surely destroy America.

What are we to say, then, of COLLEGE AUTHORITIES who intervene in such a situation, INSTILL RACE PREJUDICE into minds that are free of it, and COERCE the students to attach a stigma to another boy or girl because of skin-color?

In an effort to carry water on both shoulders, we understand, an attempt has been made to justify this program by the theory of accommodation to the evil that is in the world. We think many members of the Society of Friends will agree that this is the most degrading of theories.

No, on this matter of race there are only two alternatives before Earlham or anyone else. If it is right to discriminate between "races," then let us forbid one "mixed date," let alone three—and let us have an end to the talk about brotherhood.

But if it is wrong to discriminate, then let us cheerfully say to all and sundry that we shall not do so, and that the young people under our care will choose their associates as God moves them.

All the splendid new buildings in the world cannot make a college, if the light of human fellowship is quenched to obtain them.

THE BATTLE OF NORTH INDIANAPOLIS

Through the roundabout methods of human intercourse, this newspaper has come into possession of some peculiar material to be circulated in a democracy.

As we write, we are gazing upon a call to action—or rather inaction—issued by the Fairview Civic League to homeowners of the northwest section of the city.

It seems that a calamity which will lower real estate values is threatening these householders near Butler University and in the Mapleton area. Said calamity is nowhere identified, but it is assumed that the reader will know what it is. Come to think of it, we do too.

In order to prevent the calamity, residents are strongly urged not to sell their homes without consulting the civic league. In fact, "urged" is putting it mildly. Before you get through reading, you gather that anyone who sold his home to the "wrong" buyer would be a mighty unpopular neighbor.

Moreover, precise boundaries are laid down beyond which the calamity is not to be permitted to penetrate. The "Magnot Line," starting in the Butler vicinity, runs east along 42nd Street to Capitol Ave.; South to 38th Street, and thence again east, presumably to the city limits or maybe the county line.

The only thing lacking is a series of pillboxes, bristling with cannon and flying the Confederate flag. Then we would be ready for the Battle of North Indianapolis in earnest.

It is almost inconceivable to us that after all the wars with their dead, and all the discussions and books and orations and political platforms, there would still be an entire section of Indianapolis desiring to exclude its fellow-citizens solely because of their race. We know of a number of political, business and civic leaders who live in the area involved. Do they agree with this undercover, KKK-type movement?

THE HISTORY OF CANNIBALISM

Some writers either through lack of knowledge or design have given the impression that anthropophagy, or cannibalism, existed or exists in Africa only.

The fact is that it was common in many parts of the world, having been practiced in all the continents.

It probably originated during the glacial period, which lasted a million years. Cannibalism came about through necessity but its development was influenced greatly by superstition and religion.

Some savages even now eat dead human bodies that have decayed, digging them from the grave when their scarcity compels such action.

Not much vegetable food was available in the cold, damp climate of the ice age. Thousands of underfed people today die of scurvy, which is a blood disease resulting from lack of vegetable food or lime juice.

Its victims suffer noticeable weakness, thinness of the body and bleeding gums.

Man originally ate grain or seeds but was forced to become a flesh-eater because of the geologic developments mentioned above.

At first he found an abundance of deer but that animal often left a region and stayed away for years.

Hence even Europeans resorted to cannibalism, meat and fresh blood being the only things that could restore health and strength.

Bodies of the diseased were eaten when there was an insatiable desire for consolation. Sufficiency of healthy persons to be devoured, that they would be performing their last service to the tribe when their bodies served as food.

From that custom some tribes considered cannibalism to be of divine origin, having been commanded by a messenger descending from the sky.

IN TIME cannibalism lost its necessitous character, but survived as a superstition.

A misdirected and unenlightened idea was that enemies must be eaten in order to acquire their bravery.

Later the enemy's eye or heart was consumed for the same reason.

The religious phase of cannibalism was particularly revolting—especially in Mexico and the Fiji Islands.

The king of Fiji, for instance, could eat any one of his subjects at his will, man eating having become a religious institution.

CANNIBALISM, which is the eating of human flesh by men, is derived from the Latinized form of Carib, a South American tribe originally from the West Indies.

Anthropophagy, the other designation, comes from Greek words meaning the eating of man.

The classifications of cannibalism practices are: (1) the motives of the act, (2) the ceremonial regulations and (3) whether the victims really are slaughtered for food or whether only such are eaten as have met their death in battle or in other ways.

Food cannibalism may be of sporadic occurrence from necessity or of a continuous nature to gratify the taste for human flesh.

Food cannibalism is not limited to the so-called lower races.

Records relating to shipwrecks and sieges reveal it among civilized peoples also.

DEVOURING DEAD relatives is regarded as being the most respectful way of disposing of their remains in portions of Australia, Melanesia, Africa, South America and to a less extent in other parts of the world.

Although eating the dead as a mark of respect often has been related to the custom of killing the old and sick, in the main it simply has been a form of burial.

Herodotus described the custom among many tribesmen of making a drinking cup from the head of a dead person.

Another variation of an original ritual cannibalism is drinking the ashes of the dead.

A SICKENING FORM of cannibalism is the eating of the products of a rotting dead body.

Australians smoke-dry bodies and consume whatever parts the heat makes liquid.

Most kinds of cannibalism are subjected to ceremonial regulations.

Some tribes resort to war to get human flesh, in others the nearest relatives may not partake of a body while in others the closest kin must eat a portion of dead kinsfolk.

Some peoples do not allow women to eat human flesh and others forbid certain classes to eat it.

ALONG THE COLONIAL FRONT

By A. J. SIGGINS British Journalist

THE STRUGGLE FOR AFRICA

LONDON (ANP)—Nov. 20 was the anniversary of the Prophet Mohammed and a distinguished gathering attended a celebration in London at the Islamic Cultural Centre.

Ambassadors of all the Arab States, Pakistan and Indonesia attended.

One became conscious of the growing strength and prestige of Islam when considering the achievements of Islamic peoples during the past 10 years.

One also reflected that nearly 400,000,000 human beings were Moslems and they held control of lifelines between Europeans and supplies of essential commodities.

Despite the importance of the occasion and that within the British Commonwealth and Empire Moslems outnumber Christians not one important British newspaper had the courtesy or sense to give the ceremony the space it demanded.

At the ceremony I happened to be standing close to some people from Zanzibar; I knew they came from Zanzibar because they were speaking Zanzibar Swahili, a language I knew well.

I could not help overhearing their conversation and intervened when one of their number remarked, in connection with the forthcoming federation of East Africa:

"Perhaps they will ignore Zanzibar, as it is not important enough for them."

I said, "Make no mistake: they will grab Zanzibar and everything they can lay their hands on in Africa if you allow them."

"How can we prevent them?" they asked.

"That I will explain later," I replied.

The truth is that the British Government is actually pursuing its objective of making all East Africa a federation against the wishes of the peoples and linking it to the Central Federation, South Africa and the Belgian-French network which is part of AFLOC.

In addition the High Commission Territories—which are British Protectorates—will be handed over to the genocides of South (and Central) Africa.

As I have frequently predicted, South Africa will send enough voters north to take over the governments of Central and East Africa and to find enough colorphobic police to repress any "rebels."

Oliver Lyttelton is the willing tool of those behind the AFLOC plan.

Lincoln bombers have started pattern bombing in Kenya and more of the "love" with which the British Empire was built, is being dispensed on any unfortunate Africans who may be within range of the bombs and machine guns.

In case any white Americans of the Deep South wish to know how to deal with "uppity niggers" let me recommend sending some observers to Kenya.

The Ku Klux Klan methods are chicken-feedish, amateurish—compare with Britain's.

They pose after a lynching, stiff-lipped and hard-eyed, with the corpse riddled and still hanging by the rope.

But there are signs that Africans are beginning to feel their feet.

They reason now that they'll die anyhow whether they resist or not. If they resist they'll get shot or bombed; if they submit they'll die of starvation or overwork or preventable disease or go blind or something—they'll die years before their time anyhow.

So, many are reasoning, "We've nothing to lose but our chains so let's go."

The "love" with which the Empire was built is evidently all used up so they are substituting bombs and bullets, with some fancy touches re-

VOICE FROM THE GALLERY

By ANDREW W. RAMSEY

MOST MOMENTOUS DECISION SINCE EMANCIPATION

Negroes and Negro Haters all over the country are awaiting the approaching decision of the United States Supreme Court with equal anxiety.

Negroes know that a favorable opinion of the Supreme Court outlawing segregation in the public schools would knock the props from under the whole segregation structure and go very far in advancing the Negro toward first-class citizenship.

On the other hand a decision which refuses to recognize that segregation is per se discrimination and hence illegal and Un-American would place the United States in the same category of the Union of South Africa in race relations and place its Negroes in a quasi-slavery situation.

Of course the decision to abolish segregation as a practice of American schools would almost bring apoplexy to the South's die-hard blubbermouths like Governor Herman Talmadge and Governor Hugh White as well as the momentarily silenced Governor Jimmie Byrnes, but most of the terrible things that they forecast will not happen.

The people of Georgia, Mississippi and South Carolina, while well grounded in race prejudice, are patriotic enough to accept the Supreme Court's interpretation of the Constitution and they are too committed to the philosophy of public schools to stand idly by while the public school systems of the state are being abolished to save the conscience of white supremacy.

ATTORNEY GENERAL BROWNELL is to be commended for his utterances placing the Eisenhower administration on the right side in the present controversy when it would have been politically expedient for him to have kept silent.

His plea for the court to outlaw school segregation left the Southerners who deserted the Fair Deal for the Republicans nowhere to go except back to their fascist Dixiecrat party.

Of all the cases that it has brought to the Supreme Court since 1917, the NAACP has expended the most time and money and hope upon the present cases involving school districts in Delaware, Virginia, South Carolina, Kansas and the District of Columbia.

It is attempting to get the court of last appeal to reverse the decision which it made in the 1950s to the effect that segregation is not necessarily discrimination.

The NAACP is taking the position that all segregation necessarily implies inferiority and hence is unlawful.

This organization realizes that the public schools are the great unifying force in American life and that they touch the life of every citizen and by that very fact they either unify or divide.

SEGREGATED SCHOOLS, it argues, destroy mutual understanding, create intolerance and bigotry and stifle the opportunity for the development of talent and cripple the emotions and personalities not only of Negro children but also of white children as well.

The NAACP rejects the idea that the equalization of facilities is a substitute for desegregating the schools for it argues equality of physical equipment is no substitute for equality of treatment and acceptance of one's fellow citizens.

IT IS THE CONSENSUS of opinion of social scientists and other informed persons that segregation has no basis in science or the democratic theory of government and it is certainly out of line with Christian precepts.

The only reason for the continued existence of segregation in any phase of American life is an outmoded race prejudice which hampers the United States in her dealing with people all over the world.

The Eisenhower administration has come to realize as did the Truman administration that the U. S. cannot continue to lead the so-called Free World as long as we have segregation as a way of life in a single state or territory of our great nation.

The recent steps of the present administration to abolish segregation in the nation's capital was a step toward the democratization of America.

IF THE SUPREME COURT does the right thing in this case every Negro in America can proudly recite the pledge of allegiance to the flag of the United States, "one nation indivisible with liberty and justice for all."

BETWEEN THE LINES

By DEAN GORDON B. HANCOCK for ANP

YES, SOMETHING WILL HAPPEN!

Negro sophisticates, trying to be agreeable, too invariably declare that "nothing will happen" if segregation is outlawed by a Supreme court decision.

This is one of our stock declarations that demands revision and review.

When the Negroes were fighting with iron determination to break down the barriers that stood between them and dining car and pullman accommodations, this same word was passed along to the effect that nothing would happen if Negroes were accorded the privileges sought.

It was even so when the NAACP was fighting for equalization of teachers' salaries. Opposing whites averred that trouble would ensue and race relations would be worsened in deplorable ways that would make equalization a near-calamity to Negro-white relations.

Our would-be agreeable spokesmen came up with the assurance that "nothing would happen" as they are saying today that nothing will happen if segregation is outlawed.

It is just as well that we face the fact that something will most surely happen.

When the primary laws of the Southern states were outlawed and Negroes were admitted to the ballot something happened.

When the salaries of Negro teachers who had hitherto carried heavier loads with less salary were equalized, something happened.

When Negroes were granted pullman and dining car privileges throughout the South, something happened just as something is bound to happen if segregation in our schools is outlawed by a Supreme Court decision.

The thing that will happen is the very thing that should happen, and that is, there will be a display of Christianity and democracy that will be a moral tonic to a confused world.

It will happen that the Negro will have a sense of belonging—a thing that needs to happen sorely.

THE WHITE man will witness a sense of fair play and justice that will redeem his current self-respect currently emasculated by the vagaries of segregation.

America can face the world without qualms and apologies for fighting the Negro in times of war and smiting him in times of peace.

There will be a resurgence of patriotism unknown since the Colonies were fired and inspired by Patrick Henry's Liberty or Death speech.

Our great nation will pass from its current moral defensive to the moral offensive, and Communism will melt before democracy's advance, like frost before the rising sun.

No power in earth or hell can withstand democracy's onward march unhampered by the vagaries and duplicities, frauds and dishonesties and chicaneries and deceptions of segregation.

Yes, something will happen if segregation is banished; it is quite conceivable that the United States in general and the Southland in particular will become the moral garden spot of the world.

THE SOUTH, now regarded as the Nazareth of the nation, could conceivably become the haven of that brotherhood and democracy which are being threatened by a hundred isms, treacherously seeking their destruction.

Yes something will happen even as something is happening with equalized salaries and that is the very South that desperately fought the equalization is today boasting of such equalization.

Something will happen even as the South today is boasting of its gigantic expenditures for Negro education in its feverish attempts to stave off an adverse ruling on segregation.

Something happened when pullman and dining car restrictions were removed from travel on the railroads of the nation.

Today Negroes are enjoying the facilities and accommodations that were so long denied and what is more, whites are in full accord and Negroes are demeaning themselves with credit and with becoming grace.

THIS WRITER has just completed trip through seven Southern states covering quite three thousand miles. Ample opportunity was given to study at first hand the pullman and dining car situation.

It was all that heart could wish. Integration on the dining car and pullman cars is complete and a good time is being had by all.

Something is happening and it is the thing that should have happened.

It is a Christian thing. It is a thing that contributes to the power and majesty of our great nation.

It is a thing that will take the sting out of the criticism that Russia too invariably levels at us before the eyes of the world.

Yes something will happen; it is something that ought to happen!

Talking Drums

By HARRY LEVETTE For ANP

Death by the firing squad, still not the "talking drums," But throbbing through the night, they sound a fierce note: "Yield not," they urge, "fear is chilling oppressor's heart. Sleeping, he dreams of a knife at his throat."

Now through the Kenya, the drum notes in volume grow.

"Give back our land," dead-ly as serpent's fangs. "What if the British guns mow down one man of us."

What if a black body to galloping hounds!

"For every one dies, two more will take his place." Women are leaving their drudgery as household slaves.

Blades in hand they too obey now the "talking drums." Boldly they strike, side by side with their "Braves."

Attucks vs. South Bend Riley at Butler

THE PRES BOX

Will We Be 'Robbed' Again?

"No, not again—we can't stand to go through it!" said a couple of Attucks supporters when informed the Tigers once more have come up with a first-rate team.

These fearful fans had in mind their conviction that the Crowmen have been "robbed," one way or another, at the climax of each of the past three seasons. The thing has affected them so powerfully that they halfway wish Attucks was not good enough to be a strong contender.

We do not believe the great majority of Tiger followers agree with them. No matter how many hard knocks the Green-and-Gold has taken, the appetite to come on for more has not been destroyed.

If anything, the basketball fever is higher than ever. A kindly Providence seems to arrange it that the defeats and disappointments fade into the mist, while the shining hours of glory remain.

Then too—though we have been the first to challenge prejudice when it raised its head—it is not the habit at Attucks to holler "robbery" at every defeat. Bad officiating has seemed at times to play a crucial role, but there have been weaknesses and mistakes of the Tigers, too—as well as heads-up play by opposing teams. What Attucks wants from officials and public is an even break, nothing less... and nothing more.

GETTING DOWN TO present cases, we're told that the Indiana Officials Association still has not admitted Negro referees to its ranks. This scribble does not think the average whistle-blower is consciously biased—but as long as the referees keep jimmieing in their organization, an ugly doubt will remain.

We're glad to see Attucks using more sepias officials this season. Bernard McPeak, Frank Campbell and John Patterson have been the men in striped shirts at Tiger varsity and reserve contests.

We'll never stop harping on this theme until the color line is completely eradicated from the ranks of the whistle men.

CHATTED WITH A tall, quiet fellow at the Sheridan game—you guessed it, Hallie Bryant.

The Comet said he is getting along fine at I.U. As a freshman, he cannot play on the varsity, but he drilled with them anyway until frosh practice was started.

But bad news—the Hoosier rhinoceros team does not travel, and if you want to see Hallie play this season, you'll have to go to Bloomington.

CAUGHT SIGHT OF Al Northington and Ernie Sellars, along with Bud Wray and other former Techsters, at the Greencastle-Warren tilt. These boys of Tech's recent teams are real buddies. You see them together everywhere you go.

In order to preserve his amateur standing, Northington turned ed down a bid to play in the new Indiana Professional Basketball Association. We note that James Buchanan, Norm Ellis and Bob Edelen, all former Attucks players, are with the league's Indianapolis Blue Sox.

IF ATTUCKS BEAT Ft. Wayne North Side 71-51, and the Redskins turned around and knocked off Muncie Central 53-43, does that mean the Bearcat era is over, and if so what animal will be the new jungle king?

Jewell, 'Flap' At Ind. Central

ROBERTSON SCORES 29

OAKLAND CITY—Bombin' Bailey Robertson, freshman guard for Indiana Central, took up in college where he left off in high school Tuesday by hitting 29 points as the Greyhounds downed Oakland City, 92-81.

"Flap" counted 14 field goals and a free throw. He made 6 of 8 shots in the second quarter.

His former Attucks high teammate, Center Bob Jewell, scored 20 as the Greyhounds won their second straight victory.

Flying Tigers are turning up all over these days, with two members of the Attucks "Big Team"—Bob Jewell and Bailey Robertson—performing for Indiana Central's Greyhounds.

Jewell, Trester Award Winner in 1951, is a transfer from the University of Michigan. He played for the Wolverines in 1951-52, then switched to Central but could not play last season because of eligibility rules.

Robertson's high school career ranged from the one-hand shot that beat Anderson in 1951 to membership on the All-Star squad that played Kentucky at Louisville last June. He is a freshman at Central.

Big Bob, who stands 6'3", scored 15 points as the Greyhounds defeated Tri-State, 72-54, in their opener last week. "Flap" tallied 7 and played a good defensive game.

Sepia Soph Makes Indiana Varsity

BLOOMINGTON—Wally Choice of Montclair, N. J., has his school work cut out for him—trying to break into the lineup of a national championship basketball team that has all its top men returning.

The 6'4" sepiia sophomore is one of three non-Hoosiers on the 20-man Indiana University squad which opens its season playing host to Cincinnati Saturday.

Listed at forward and center, Wally is rated as good a chance as any newcomer to muscle in on the time of Branch McCracken's All-American regulars.

Why Jackie Robinson Is Militant

By LUIX VIRGIL OVERBEA FOR AL MOSES

CHICAGO (ANP)—Every time Jackie Robinson opens his mouth—he is on the diamond, in his magazine or in an interview—he makes news. He makes news because he does not make with the double talk. Jackie is forthright and outspoken. He doesn't know of such a thing as a bush to beat around.

Because Jackie is so outspoken he has been the target of poignant criticism, from Negro circles as well as whites. His critics generally take up the same line: he fights too much and "is going to spoil things."

Jackie is not only the first Negro to play in modern organized baseball, he also is a great, versatile ball player and the No. 1 boxoffice attraction of the game.

Moreover, he is a college man, a magazine editor, a department store proprietor, and a National Broadcasting Company official. He may be a few other things this reporter cannot think of at the moment.

DESPITE ALL THESE assets, here on my desk is a clipping which reports that Jackie Robinson cannot buy a decent home in the New York area. No, Jackie is not too poor to buy a home; he is too dark.

Although Jackie has achieved in nearly everything he has tried and has won world-wide fame, he cannot purchase a home for his wife and children because he is a Negro.

It seems that ever since last spring Jackie has been trying to find a home in the country. Real estate dealers tell him "You wouldn't be happy here" each time he suggests a place he would like. This is true, although in theory there is no racial bias for prospective home-buyers in New York and New England. Real estate brokers say, "Now, of course, I think anyone with the money to buy a house should be able to buy wherever he wants, but the people around here... I'm sure you understand."

Prospective neighbors say, "It isn't me, you understand, it's my neighbors."

NO WONDER JACKIE takes every opportunity he gets to stand up for what he thinks is right. Look at the hypocrisy he has met for nine months, merely trying to find a decent place to rear his children! How miserable the man must feel every time he takes the field when he knows his wife, Rachel, every day must meet the same kind of answers each time she sees a place she likes and attempts to buy.

Yes, even if you become an international celebrity like Jackie Robinson, if you are a Negro, you still have to face the problem of Jim Crow in America.

Shortridge Has Maxey, Brown

Two Negro boys, Bob Maxey and Charley Brown, are regulars with the Shortridge basketball team this season.

Maxey, the all-city football end, is carrying on from where he left off last year. A cool and deliberate worker, he plays a vital part in Coach Cleon Reynolds' pattern-weaving machine.

Brown, on the other hand, supplies some of the fire that the Blue Devil aggregation appears to need. A fast mover who has added some height since last season, he is a crack shot who guides his long ones in with "body English."

Shortridge's super-careful tactics paid off in a 15-9 first-quarter lead over Ft. Wayne South Side last Saturday, but the Sacons couldn't hold it. The visitors broke the game wide open in the second half and won 51-43.

Brown scored 13 points and Maxey 7 for Shortridge, while pony guard Bill Chavis, a sepiia senior, hit 7 for the Archers. Bob Wright, another tan player, did not see action for South Side.

Shortridge's syncope band and Booster Club were in rare form, but what was happened to the former interracial character of the Boosters? Has the organization been "de-mixed," or are the Negro girls not showing up?

Ed Hurt, Bob Williams and Herschell Turner are players on the Blue Devil reserves, we were informed.—C.S.P.

CAROLINE TOPS

NEW YORK (ANP)—Sensational J. C. Caroline of Illinois, one of the greatest sophomore football players in history, has an insurmountable lead in rushing for the 1953 season, according to college statistics.

The lad from South Carolina netted 1,256 yards in 194 carries, to leave all other major college ground-gainers in the shade.

Second to him was another sepiia sophomore, Bobby Watkins of Ohio State. He racked up 875 yards in 153 efforts.

Rated 14th was LeRoy Bolden, recently voted the most valuable player of Rose Bowl-bound Michigan State. He gained 691 yards in 127 attempts.

Caroline has been named to everybody's All-American team, while Bolden also rates high with the pickers.

Taylor, Turner On Tech Team

By CHARLES S. PRESTON

There are two Negro players on the Tech basketball squad this season. Neither is on the starting five.

Guard BOB TAYLOR, a 5'7" senior who received his early training at School No. 26, showed some classy "floor work" in Tech's opening victory over Warren Central. He stole the ball from a Warren player, fell down, but without losing possession continued to dribble, got up quickly and dribbled in for a basket, ahead of the pursuing enemy.

Taylor is very fast and deceptive, dribbling with either hand and shifting rapidly from one to the other to deceive the defense. Despite his short stature, he can rebound. He scored 5 points for the Greencastle.

All-state football halfback ABELL TURNER, 6'1" senior, played briefly at center. The fans did not see enough of him to judge his ability.

Sophomore Fred McCoy from School 37 is on the reserve team. Milton Baltimore, Jr., is Tech's first Negro to serve as student manager.

OTHER LOCAL SCHOOLS will be much obliged if Charley Maas' boys play as they did during the first half. Ray Crowe and the Attucks team, watching from the stands, saw a sad performance as Tech trailed Warren 21-16 at the intermission.

On the other hand, the rival schools will be much disturbed if Tech plays as it did during the second half, when the Big Green scorched the nets for 43 markers to win 59-41.

We have a hunch that this will be the case, and that the Greencastle are going to be as rough as any of 'em.

Face Wildcats Friday; Broad Ripple Dec. 10

Attucks' rapid-rolling Tigers, who won their first three games and then took a 10-day layoff, were looking ahead to another trio of toughies this week.

First on the list, in a game at Butler Fieldhouse, was South Bend Riley, scheduled for Friday, Dec. 4.

In case your memory's a bit fuzzy, Riley isn't the team that won the state tournament last spring. That's Central.

But Riley is the team that held Central to a 54-50 margin in sectional play, on the Bears' route to the championship. Nay more—Riley is the outfit that kicked Central 60-45 before the tournament.

Riley once played in the final game of the state tourney—in 1945, when the Wildcats lost to Evansville Bosse by 46-36.

A YEAR AGO this time, Hallie Bryant and his merry pals took the Riley quintet's measure in a 58-51 engagement at South Bend. Since then Riley lost by graduation its top performers: sepiia, Joe Lee (now at Indiana State), Buddy Overholser and Bill Denny. As we recall, Attucks lost a couple of boys too.

Riley's coach, Charles Stewart, seems to be emulating his fellow townsman, Notre Dame's Frank Leahy, in the crying towel department. In a pre-season survey last week, Stewart was quoted as observing through the blinding tears:

"We're big enough and we're fast enough, but we lack that 'know how' and ability that seasoned seniors add to a squad. This club will probably start slow. If we do any good it will be in the last part of the season.

"But come the 1954-55 season and we'll play with the best of them."

When these touching remarks were relayed to Attucks Coach Ray Crowe, however, he expressed disbelief and indicated that he will start the Tiger first-string just the same.

"I don't see where he gets that," Crowe declared, shaking his head. "I've seen his roster and it looks pretty good to me."

So whether or not Stewart was trying to "mousetrap" his foes by remote control, it turned out that the question would have to be settled on the basketball floor.

AFTER RILEY, Attucks' next opponent will be always-battling Broad Ripple, in a game to be played at Butler on Thursday, Dec. 10.

Paced by returning star Wally Cox, the Rockets waltzed over Lawrence Central 60-36 in their season's opener.

It's not likely the Tigers will be able to save anything from that

New Ripple Date; Tickets at School

The Attucks-Broad Ripple basketball game will be played at Butler Fieldhouse on Thursday, Dec. 10, instead of the date originally scheduled.

Adult tickets for all Attucks home games can be bought at the school on the day of the game, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., it was announced by Principal Russell A. Lane. He urged adult fans to purchase their duets in advance and avoid waiting in line.

one for their contest the following evening, which is shaping up as the state's biggest game of the budding season. On Friday, Dec. 11, the eyes of Hoosierland will be on Terre Haute, where the Crowmen will meet red-hot Gerstenever.

THERE WAS "nothing special" this week at the Attucks gym. All the front-line men seemed to have passed their first scholastic hurdle.

Coach Crowe emphasized the team play and "star-less" condition of his current bunch of boys. "And I'd like to keep it that way," he stressed.

Sheddric Mitchell, 6'3 1/2" center who hasn't started yet because of an operation, had some good news from the doctor. Sheddric said the medico told him he might be able to play by Dec. 18 or even Dec. 11.

Oscar Robertson is getting pretty old. The popular "Little Flap" turned 15 on Nov. 22.

2 Hot Sessions At Michigan State

EAST LANSING, Mich.—There will be more than one hot session of basketball at Michigan State this winter.

Members of the Spartan freshman squad are both "Cheerful Charley" Session and Oscar Session, Negro brothers from the famed small-town Glenn team that set Western Indiana on its ear in recent seasons.

All-state Charley, 6'6", has completed his Army service in time to enter Michigan State with his younger brother.

Deny Airman Fired For Ignoring Jimcrow
WASHINGTON, D. C. — Air Force authorities denied the dismissal of a pilot, Thomas Williams, Philadelphia, was due to his refusal to sit in a jimcrow section of a bus in the South several weeks ago.

He was dismissed, along with 6,500 other airmen, because of budget cuts which made it necessary to reduce personnel, authorities told the NAACP. The organization had protested dismissal of Lieutenant Williams as contrary to Supreme Court decisions outlawing segregation in interstate travel.

Mitchell, a pilot in training at Craig Air Force Base, Ala., refused to sit in a segregated section of a bus enroute from Florida to Alabama.

Says Negroes Beat Columbus By 400 Years

NEW YORK (ANP)—From London comes the biggest story of the week.

Negroes were in what is now known as America 400 years before Columbus landed in the West Indies in 1492.

Dr. M. W. D. Jeffreys of the University of Witwatersrand in Johannesburg, South Africa wrote an article for the British science journal, "Nature," declaring that discoveries of pottery dating back to the 10th century of the West African Yoruban tribe, was decorated by rolling an Indian corn cob over the wet clay.

As all varieties of Indian corn are believed to have been derived from a Mexican or Peruvian grass, Dr. Jeffreys has been trying to find how the characteristic grain reached the Old World before Columbus was born!

He says it came from the northeast of West Africa. By studying the ancient tribal dialects and names for Indian corn, he discovered that the grain was always called by the name of the next northern or more easterly tribe.

Thus it successively became the "guinea corn of Kwona" and the "Pabir" and the "Jukun" and soon through various other tribal names moving toward Egypt.

"MY RESEARCHES over the past seven years have now accumulated sufficient data to establish Arab-Negro contacts with the Americas beginning about 900 A. D.," Dr. Jeffreys declares.

The actual "contacts" are not stated, although in a paper in the August issue of the Italian science journal, "Scientia," Dr. Jeffreys said that he believes Arab navigators crossed the Atlantic to Mexico and Brazil between 900 and 1200 A. D.

He also asserted that ancient Arabs or Negro skeletons had been found in the Pecos Valley of Mexico and that Columbus was aware of strange "foreign grains" in West Africa before he sailed West on his first voyage.

These grains, Dr. Jeffreys believes, came from Brazil and had been brought to the Old World by the Arabs. Leading botanists in London are reluctant to accept the theory.

One Prof. Cyril Darlington of Oxford, said he had no doubt that Indian corn was of Mexican or Peruvian origin, but he was of the opinion it traveled east after

Columbus made his discovery. CONTRARIWISE, ethnologists are less skeptical. They say, "It is possible that occasional voyages were made across the Atlantic before 1492."

Further confusing the situation is a statement by a Cambridge servant that there was a readily discernible Chinese influence among South African tribes. Sung and Ming pottery have been found in Southern Rhodesia, while the "Chaldean King" Nabonidus (606 B. C.) opened sea routes between Babylon, China, India and East Africa, and the Huns then migrated to Africa.

"It may be that the Indian corn first reached Africa via the Pacific and China," it was said.

Mrs. Georgia Cody

Funeral services for Mrs. Georgia Cody, 52, 605 W. 27th, who died Nov. 23, were held at the Stuart Mortuary Nov. 28, with burial in Floral Park.

A native of Georgia, she had lived here two years and was a member of Christ Temple.

Surviving are a daughter, Miss Merrill Collins; sister, Mrs. Anna Peole, all of Indianapolis; five brothers, Daniel, Joseph, Wilbert and James Cody, all of Columbia, Ga., and eight grandchildren.

Cancer Films Are Available For Group Showings

Four different films dealing with various phases of cancer control work are now available for group showings, according to Mrs. George W. Stark, chairman of the Marion County Cancer Society's Speakers' Bureau.

The Cancer Committee of the Indianapolis Medical Society, of which Dr. James H. Gosman is chairman, provides a doctor speaker, usually secured from the immediate community, to answer audience questions.

Lay speakers are also available to groups for talks on the services of "The Little Red Door" and other phases of cancer control, ranging in length from five minutes to thirty minutes.

"THE LITTLE RED DOOR" in sound, color, nineteen (19) minutes long, is a locally-produced film.

It uses Indianapolis people in its cast to show the various activities of the Marion County Cancer Society in the control of cancer, assistance to cancer patients, volunteer participation in the program, and education in the seven danger signals of cancer.

The sound, color film, "BREAST SELF-EXAMINATION," fifteen and a half (15½) minutes long, describes the early symptoms of breast cancer, readily discernible even to non-professionals.

This film is addressed to adult women and is designed specifically for presentation to women's groups. The second film "THE DOCTOR SPEAKS HIS MIND," with sound, in black and white, twenty-two (22) minutes long, is suitable for mixed groups and is concerned with general features of cancer control work.

Developed from a doctor's point of view, this picture accentuates the need for citizen participation in the early detection of cancer.

"THE WARNING SHADOW," is a color, sound film, seventeen (17) minutes long, dealing with the subject of lung cancer.

Beamed particularly toward men, among whom the incidence of lung cancer is higher than in women, it is, however, suitable for either men or women group meetings or for mixed groups.

Any of these films along with both doctor and lay speakers may be scheduled for group meetings by contact with the Little Red Door, at 1101 West Tenth Street or by telephoning PLaza 7371.

HE DIDN'T FORGET: Leon Jolson (left), who was treated to his first turkey dinner when he arrived as a penniless displaced person from Germany six years ago, said "thank you" in his own way last week for the opportunities in the U. S. that have established him as the president of a 25 million dollar sewing machine company. He passed out turkeys (and all the trimmings) to his New York employees, among them Miss Lucille D. Hayes, shown receiving the bird. (Newspress Photo.)

Teen Talk

By THE SNOOPER

Say, kids, we still aren't getting any serious letters letting us know what you want in "Teen Talk." Don't you have any ideas at all, or are your minds so filled with the coming fun at holiday time, you can't think about anything else? Come on, now, get 'em rolling!

I hear Lawrence White has been singing "Is It a Dream?" because a nice little babe from the Northside, by the name of Jean Kelly, is going wild over him, and if he doesn't watch himself, the ribs are going to catch up with him.
Cool yourself, Robert.

Well, what happened between Maxine Raine and Warren Holloway? Was Robert Minor just a cooler talking stud than Warren? . . .
The flame that Doris Williams carried for Samuel Hill has gone out. She says there is no one for her but James Steele.

Patricia Raine kills for no one but the great Charles Bishop. Keep up the good work, Patricia. . . .
Who is Katherine Ross' secret lover? Is it Daniel Dozier? Out with it, Katherine.

What Southside rib is madly in love with Ronnie Grant? Anybody got any ideas? Just cool yourself, Ronnie. . . . So 'Janice Cowherd kills for no one but Tony Butler!
Thatsa girl, Janice. . . . Does Loretta Bowman still kill for Chester Johnson, and has the flame gone out that Betty Bowman carried for Wilson Lorick? Is she now carrying it for Paul Harris?

I guess you heard that Janice Young is going strong for Larry Pryor. Keep it up, Janice! . . . Oh yes, Stella Barker is crying her poor heart out for Raymond Kirk.
Go to it, kids. . . . And, Robert Harris, why don't you get wise about June Reynolds?

And speaking of who's going for whom, it seems Wilma Lewis is

Malan Seeks More Juncrow In S. Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (ANP)—The Nationalist party of Daniel F. Malan last week reiterated its stand for complete separation of the races in South Africa.

Meeting in Natal Province, the party called for still greater race segregation at universities and in produce markets. In summing his just going mad over Joe Crowe, while Darlene Maynard is sitting at home playing "Baby, It's You" over William Bishop. And an Eastside girl is madly in love with Odell Donald.

SONNY BROWN and Norma
Turner are walking the Lovers'
Lane on Tech's campus, and also eyeing each other on the campus are Baby John and Corine McCray.
You all have our best wishes for a happy romance.

Elester Berryhill and Dorothy
Franklin are making a dizzy couple. Keep up the good work. . . .
Gene Smith has quite a problem
—two girls would kill for him.
Make up your mind which it will be, Gene.

James E. Craig, you'd better hold onto Jeanette "Sweets" Garner, because Roy Woods is looking that way and seems to like what he sees. . . . Barbara "Miss Fine" Caldwell seems to be pulling a sneak with "Mr. Cleanhead" Terrell at the Skatarena every Saturday night. Terrible babe!

Out Irvington-way, it seems that Juanita Jackson is falling head over heels over Wayman Akers, while Dila Dall Hinton and Charles
Edwards aren't doing so bad. . . .
Georgeann Brown seems to be cooling it with Robert Flagg. What ing it with Ernie Webster. . . .
Alice Durham seems to be cooling it with Robert Flagg. What happened, James Jenkins?

What's happening between Car-martha Crenshaw and Albert Johnson? Albert, don't you know you are the only one for her? . . .
Looks like Leroy Jackson and Benjamin Durham are still going steady with Geneva Law and Anna Wilkey.

I HEAR THAT George Hayden and Silvera Beadles have called it quits. Cheer up, Silvera, George isn't the only boy in the world.
Or is he? . . . June Reynolds,
Doris Thrasher is killing for Robert
Harris, so you'd better cool it.

Say, Larry Pryor, is it still Eva Thrasher with you? Let us know what's happening. . . . Anna Thrasher is still going around singing "Please Don't Leave Me" to Donald Pryor. Cool it, children.

It seems that Mary Macon and Shedrick Mitchell are as cool as they want to be, now that basketball season is around again.
Leroy Porter, what do you do to make your features send the girls a-wooing? It seems Bessie Wilson just thrives on your good looks.

party's policy, N. C. Havanga, deputy prime minister, said in part:

"South Africa is not prepared to take the risk of a policy of partnership (between whites and Negro) and that attitude is neither unjustified nor immoral. South Africa's policy is to give the native his own territory in which to develop. But when he comes to sell his labor in white areas, he will not have the right to demand equal political rights."
